New Zealand Legislation

81 Seditious offences defined

- (1) A seditious intention is an intention—
  - (a) To bring into hatred or contempt, or to excite disaffection against, His Majesty, or the Government of New Zealand, Britain UK or the administration of justice; or
  - (b) To incite the public or any persons or any class of persons to attempt to procure otherwise than by lawful means the alteration of any matter affecting the Constitution, laws, or Government of New Zealand; or
  - (c) To incite, procure, or encourage violence, lawlessness, or disorder; or
  - (d) To incite, procure, or encourage the commission of any offence that is prejudicial to the public safety or to the maintenance of public order; or
  - (e) To excite such hostility or ill will between different classes of persons as may endanger the public safety.
- (2) Without limiting any other legal justification, excuse, or defence available to any person charged with any offence, it is hereby declared that no one shall be deemed to have a seditious intention only because he intends in good faith—
- (a) To show that His Majesty has been misled or mistaken in his measures; or
  - (b) To point out errors or defects in the Government or Constitution of New Zealand, or in the administration of justice; or to incite the public or any persons or any class of persons to attempt to procure by unlawful means the alteration of any matter affecting the Constitution, laws, or Government of New Zealand; or
  - (c) To point out, with a view to their removal, matters producing or having a tendency to produce feelings of hostility or ill will between different classes of persons.
- (3) A seditious conspiracy is an agreement between 2 or more persons to carry into execution any seditious intention.
- (4) For the purposes of sections 83 to 85 of this Act,—
- To publish means to communicate to the public or to any person or persons, whether in writing, or orally, or by any representation, or by any means of reproduction whatsoever
- Statement includes words, writing, pictures, or any significant expression or representation whatsoever; and also includes any reproduction, by any means whatsoever, of any statement.
- Compare: 1908 No 32 s 118(1), (2), (5)

Capital punishment - Wikipedia

Crimes that are punishable by death are known as capital crimes, capital offences, or capital felonies, and vary depending on the jurisdiction, but commonly include serious crimes against the person, such as murder, mass murder, aggravated cases of rape (often including child sexual abuse), terrorism, aircraft hijacking, war

crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide, along with crimes against the state such as attempting to overthrow government, treason, espionage, sedition, and piracy, among other crimes.

The United States and Japan are the only developed countries to have recently carried out executions. The U.S. federal government, the U.S. military, and 27 states have a valid death penalty statute, and over 1,400 executions have been carried in the United States since it reinstated the death penalty in 1976. Japan has 106 inmates with finalized death sentences as of July 26, 2022, after executing Tomohiro Katō, who was charged with killing seven and injured ten in Akihabara massacre in June 2008.[\[89\]](#)

New Zealand Legislation

81 Seditious offences defined

- (1) A seditious intention is an intention—
  - o (a) To bring into hatred or contempt, or to excite disaffection against, His Majesty, or the Government of New Zealand, Britain UK or the administration of justice; or
  - o (b) To incite the public or any persons or any class of persons to attempt to procure otherwise than by lawful means the alteration of any matter affecting the Constitution, laws, or Government of New Zealand; or
  - o (c) To incite, procure, or encourage violence, lawlessness, or disorder; or
  - o (d) To incite, procure, or encourage the commission of any offence that is prejudicial to the public safety or to the maintenance of public order; or
  - o (e) To excite such hostility or ill will between different classes of persons as may endanger the public safety.
- (2) Without limiting any other legal justification, excuse, or defence available to any person charged with any offence, it is hereby declared that no one shall be deemed to have a seditious intention only because he intends in good faith—
  - o (a) To show that His Majesty has been misled or mistaken in his measures; or
  - o (b) To point out errors or defects in the Government or Constitution of New Zealand, or in the administration of justice; or to incite the public or any persons or any class of persons to attempt to procure by unlawful means the alteration of any matter affecting the Constitution, laws, or Government of New Zealand; or
  - o (c) To point out, with a view to their removal, matters producing or having a tendency to produce feelings of hostility or ill will between different classes of persons.
- (3) A seditious conspiracy is an agreement between 2 or more persons to carry into execution any seditious intention.
- (4) For the purposes of sections 83 to 85 of this Act,—

To publish means to communicate to the public or to any person or persons, whether in writing, or orally, or by any representation, or by any means of reproduction whatsoever

Justice David Goddard Chairperson Grants and Scholarships Committee

David is a judge of the Court of Appeal of New Zealand. David began his legal studies at Victoria University, then studied law at Oxford University on a Rhodes scholarship. He taught law at Bristol University from 1986 to 1988, before returning to New Zealand in 1989 to practise law. He spent 10 years at the law firm Chapman Tripp before going to the bar in 1999. He was appointed Queen's Counsel in 2003. David had a wide-ranging practice at the bar, with a particular focus on appellate advocacy before the Court of Appeal and the Supreme Court. David spent the 2018/2019 academic year at New York University as a Senior Global Fellow in the Hauser Global Law School. On his return to New Zealand in July 2019 David was appointed as a judge of the High Court and Court of Appeal. Before his appointment to the bench, David had an extensive involvement in law reform in New Zealand and overseas, advising ministers and government agencies on a wide range of policy issues. He has represented New Zealand in bilateral and multilateral treaty negotiations. David chaired a series of intergovernmental meetings at the Hague Conference on Private International Law that culminated in the adoption in June 2019 of the Hague Convention on Enforcement of Judgments in Civil and Commercial Matters. Ian Borrin was David’s first cousin once removed – his “Uncle Ian”. Ian shared his love of the outdoors with David, teaching him to ski and taking him tramping in the New Zealand mountains. Ian also took a close interest in David’s legal career. “Ian’s legacy provides us with a great opportunity – and responsibility – to make a difference to New Zealanders, through the law. I look forward to working alongside, and learning from, talented and innovative people who share our vision and our commitment.” Judge Heemi Maana Taumaunu Nominee of the Chief Justice “Ko Hikurangi te maunga Ko Waiapu te awa Ko Ngati Porou te iwi Ko Te Aitanga-a-Hauiti te iwi taketake Ko Ngati Konohi te hapu Ko Whangara-mai-tawhiti te marae Ko Paikea, ko Porourangi me Tahu-Potiki, nga matua tipuna” Born in Gisborne, New Zealand, with tribal affiliations to Ngati Porou (East Coast, North Island), and Ngai Tahu (South Island), Judge Taumaunu completed primary and secondary school in Christchurch before joining the New Zealand Army as a Webb Class Regular Force Cadet in 1984. He then served as a Regular Force soldier and non-commissioned officer in the Royal New Zealand Signals Corp for four years. Graduating from Victoria University of Wellington in 1993 with a Bachelor of Laws, Judge Taumaunu practised as a barrister and solicitor in the Gisborne region for 10 years prior to his appointment as a District Court Judge in January 2004. Judge Taumaunu is warranted to preside over jury, general and youth courts, is a resident Judge of the Auckland District Court, and regularly presides over Youth Courts in the Northern Region. Judge Taumaunu is the current Chair of the District Court Kaupapa Maori Advisory Group. In May 2008, Judge Taumaunu presided over the first sitting of a Rangatahi Court, at Te Poho-o-Rawiri Marae in Gisborne. In 2016, Judge Taumaunu was awarded the Veillard-Cybulski Foundation Award for his pioneering work in leading the development of the Rangatahi Courts of New Zealand. In June 2012, Judge Taumaunu was sworn in as a Judge of the Court Martial of New Zealand. In February 2018, Judge Taumaunu was appointed Deputy Judge Advocate General and Deputy Chief Judge of the Court Martial of New Zealand. In October 2019, Judge Taumaunu was appointed Chief Judge of the District Court of New Zealand. Jacques Lethbridge Jacques Lethbridge President of the Law Society Jacques Lethbridge will become the President of the New Zealand Law Society in April 2022. Jacques is the third consecutive woman to be President and the 32nd person to fill the role in the 150-year history of the Society. Jacques has lived (and practised) in Auckland for the last 17 years, but is proudly from the Manawatu/Rangitikei, and still calls Feilding home. She graduated with a BA in history and political science and an LLB from Victoria University of Wellington and undertook an LLM with Honours at Auckland University while working fulltime and raising her son. Jacques began her career at the Waitangi Tribunal in 2001 before moving on to a Prosecutor role for the Ministry of Social Development. Jacques was a Defence Lawyer for the Public Defence Service Pilot and moved into private practice in 2008. In 2012 she was the first female Partner at Grove Darlow & Partners and moved to Lowndes Law as its first female partner in 2016. She has been a partner at Martelli McKegg lawyers since June 2019 practising in commercial and civil litigation. Jacques has held various voluntary board positions and trusteeships across a range of areas including as Chair of the Auckland Committee Law Centre Board for eight years, co-founding Chair of Women in Restructuring and Insolvency and in 2021 was recognised in the NZ Lawyer 25 Most Influential Lawyers 2021 list and Elite Women Lawyers list. Mark Hickford Pro Vice-Chancellor of Government, Law and Business – Toi Tatariki, Te Herenga Waka – Victoria University of Wellington Professor Mark Hickford was appointed as Pro-Vice Chancellor of Government, Law and Business with effect from October 2021, having been Pro Vice-Chancellor and Dean of Law since May 2015. He has held a range of senior roles in the public and private sectors, including being in the Prime Minister’s Policy Advisory Group in the Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet. He spent eight years as a Crown Counsel at the Crown Law Office, specialising in public law, the Treaty of Waitangi, Crown-Maori relations, and natural resources law. Mark has published on aboriginal title and customary rights, issues relating to the Treaty of Waitangi, and the history of New Zealand's constitution and laws. He holds degrees from the University of Auckland and a doctorate from the University of Oxford in the United Kingdom. "The generosity of Ian Borrin and his family will have a lasting impact on legal scholarship in this country. It is an honour to be involved in a Foundation set to strengthen and enhance the legal system that underpins life in New Zealand." Richard Caughley Nominee of the Nikau Foundation Richard Caughley is a partner at Morrison Kent Wellington, where he heads the commercial property team. Richard has been a trustee of the Nikau Foundation for over 15 years. From age 25 when he ran for the Wellington City Council to the present day, Richard has been passionate about Wellington, its people and its prospects. Richard graduated with a law degree from Victoria University and has been a practising lawyer more years than he cares to remember. "When Ian signed the deed creating his foundation I thanked him for his confidence in the Nikau Foundation and said we would not let him down. Now it is about fulfilling the promise." Co-opted Members of the Grants and Scholarships Committee Sir Terence Arnold Sir Terence researched and taught at law schools in Canada and New Zealand for over a decade, principally in the area of criminal justice, before joining Chapman Tripp as a litigation solicitor in 1982. He became a partner in 1985, undertaking a variety of commercial litigation but developing a particular interest in competition and regulatory issues. In 1994 he joined the bar and in 1997 he was appointed Queen's Counsel. He became Solicitor-General in 2000 and was appointed to the Court of Appeal in 2006, where he served until 2013, when he was appointed to the Supreme Court. Sir Terence retired as a permanent member of the Supreme Court in April 2017 but continues to sit when required as an Acting Judge. He has been active in teaching, writing, and presenting seminars in a variety of areas and was closely involved in the development of skills-based training for litigators. He has a continuing interest in law reform. "Meaningful change to the law and the justice system requires top-quality research and analysis. The extraordinary generosity of the late Judge Borrin provides an opportunity to support the kind of research and thinking that is capable of producing meaningful change. It's fascinating – and a little daunting – to be involved in giving life to Judge Borrin's vision." Bronwyn Jones Bronwyn Jones Bronwyn Jones is the Principal Advisor to the New Zealand Law Society Chief Executive's department. She has worked for the Law Society for more than 19 years in several roles, including secretary to the now-replaced Law Practitioners Disciplinary Tribunal and acting branch manager for several Law Society branches before her current role. Her passion for justice initially drove her studies in criminology, sociology and legal studies, ultimately earning her Law Degree, her BA in Criminology, Sociology and her MBA from Victoria University. "I am passionate about the law and the contribution of the profession to the rule of law and administration of justice. I am proud of the work that many lawyers do to contribute to access to justice and a fairer and more just society that upholds the rights of everyone. I hope that my contribution adds something to the bigger picture." Advisors to the Grants and Scholarships Committee Kingi Snelgar Kingi Snelgar GSC Advisor – Criminal Justice Kingi Snelgar is a barrister at Bankside Chambers specialising in criminal defence and litigation. He has whakapapa to Ngapuhi, Ngati Whakaue, Te Whakatohea and Ngai Tahu. Kingi began his career at Meredith Connell specialising in criminal prosecution before completing a Masters of Law at Harvard Law School as a Fulbright Scholar. Kingi was appointed as an inaugural Commissioner on Te Kahui Tatari Ture, Criminal Cases Review Commission. He is also counsel to assist the Royal Commission into Abuse in State Care. "The Borrin whanau left a generous koha for future research and analysis into our justice system. In its short time, the Foundation has already carved out an excellent reputation for supporting a range of innovative and important projects and research including the seminal work of the late Dr Moana Jackson. Noku te honore i te noho hei kai awhina mo tenei kaupapa." Ataga'i Esera Ataga'i Esera GSC Advisor – Family Law Ataga'i Esera (Samoan/NZ European), over the past decade, has predominantly practised in the area of Family Law in Porirua, apart from a brief stint in South Auckland. She is currently a Director at Family Law Specialists in Porirua and the Family Law Section representative for Porirua. A large part of her practice is acting as Lawyer for Children. Ataga'i is currently Vice President (Wellington) of the New Zealand Law Society and is looking forward to being an Advisor for the Borrin Foundation GSC. "I truly consider it a real privilege to meet with children and young people, and to advocate for them in what can be particularly difficult circumstances." Borrin Foundation Staff Tupe Solomon-Tanoa'i Chief Philanthropic Officer Tupe Solomon-Tanoa'i is a Samoan/Fijian New Zealander who was born and raised in South Auckland. She joins the Borrin Foundation after working on development cooperation and effectiveness as an international civil servant in the Pacific. During her career in the New Zealand public service Tupe has worked on a range of trade, economic, and policy issues, including as Senior Adviser to the Minister of Education. She holds a BA/LLB(Hons), has represented New Zealand's interests overseas as a diplomat, and currently has a seat at various governance tables including Philanthropy New Zealand. JD-Borrin Chief Philanthropic Officer-Feb 2019 "The Borrin family's sense of profound gratitude to New Zealand resonates deeply with me and I'm inspired by Judge Borrin's desire to give back in a way that catalyses transformational change. I chose law as my discipline to contribute to a just, inclusive, tolerant and free society. After a career in policy, it's a tremendous privilege to work alongside talented Borrin "doers" – the individuals and organisations who are helping to achieve this vision." Jan Ryan Grants and Operations Coordinator Jan looks after the infrastructure and day-to-day work of the Borrin Foundation, supporting both the Chief Philanthropic Officer and the Grants and Scholarships Committee. Jan has an extensive administrative background in both public and private sectors. A large portion of Jan's career has been in the tertiary sector where her primary focus was implementing and managing workplace health and safety systems. An experienced administrator, Jan's expertise lies in coordinating administrative and operational functions and is focused on ensuring the Borrin Foundation grantees are well supported. Jan has a NZ Diploma in Business and is continuing her learning journey, with upskilling in te reo Maori. Jan resides in Porirua and is very proud of her family history in the area which dates back to 1915. "Through Judge Ian Borrin's generosity, we are in an extremely fortunate position to make a difference to the lives of New Zealanders, through legal research, education and scholarships. I am excited to be part of the Borrin Foundation whanau." Oli Malthus Scholarships and Engagement Associate Oli works with the Chief Philanthropic Officer to run the Borrin Foundation individual Funding Programme and coordinate the scholarship application process. Oli is also involved in the Borrin Foundation's outreach and engagement providing support through his social media, website, and other communications related responsibilities. After graduating from Massey University with a degree in Communications, Oli spent time in public-facing roles at the New Zealand Business & Parliament Trust, MetService Te Ratonga Tiorangi, and Te Papa Tongarewa before joining our team. He blends his unique set of skills to provide support across numerous Borrin Foundation operations. "It is a privilege to assist in the delivery of Judge Ian Borrin's gift to Aotearoa. Working with the Borrin Foundation and its community of grantees and alumni is a unique and humbling opportunity to have a positive and long-lasting impact on the laws that govern our society." Trustee Nikau Foundation Logo Nikau Foundation Trustee The Nikau Foundation is the community foundation for the Greater Wellington Region and is the trustee for the Michael and Suzanne Borrin Foundation. A community foundation is an independent philanthropic organisation working in a specific geographic region to encourage and facilitate generosity. The Nikau Foundation attracts gifts, handover trusts, legacies, and community organisation endowments and invests them. The income from these investments is distributed to charitable organisations in accordance with the donor's wishes in perpetuity. In its capacity as trustee, the Nikau Foundation has supported the establishment of the Borrin Foundation and is responsible for managing the Foundation’s investments to maximise the funds available. This ensures the foundation can realise its vision and mission. Community Foundations of New Zealand are thrilled to announce that Her Excellency, the Right Honourable Dame Cindy Kiro, GNZM, QSO, Governor-General of New Zealand, has been appointed as Patron for our work.

As Patron, Dame Cindy will act as a high-level ambassador, lending her credibility and time to support their changemaking work growing funding and community impact across Aotearoa New Zealand.

Dame Cindy is a distinguished researcher and held leadership roles at Massey University, Victoria University Wellington/Te Herenga Waka and the University of Auckland. Her public sector roles have included Children’s Commissioner (the first woman and first Māori to be appointed to the role) membership of the Ministerial Cross-Sector Forum for the Ministry of Education, and Chair of the Welfare Expert Advisory Group. Dame Cindy has had extensive experience in the public health sector, including a role as General Manager Funding and Services Planning and Māori Health for the Auckland District Health Board. Prior to taking up her role as Governor-General, Dame Cindy was Chief Executive of the Royal Society Te Apārangi.

Dame Cindy is the first Māori woman to be appointed as Governor-General and is a champion for social justice, equity and public health. Her guiding principles of kaitiakitanga, oranga and manaakitanga align closely with those of Community Foundations.

CFNZ Board Chair, Raymond Key, says he is delighted with the news.

“As a young network we are truly honoured to have Dame Cindy recognize our growing transformational work and agree to be our Patron over her term as Governor-General. We extend to Dame Cindy a very warm welcome to our Community Foundations’ whanau and we look forward to forging a meaningful relationship, together growing funding and impact for the benefit of Aotearoa New Zealand.”

A formal event welcoming Dame Cindy to Community Foundations of New Zealand will be planned for later in the year. Ka pai rā tēnei mahi, ngā manaakitanga.

A flag raising ceremony was held this morning at the National Library of New Zealand to commemorate the signing of He Whakaputanga o Te Rangatiratanga o Nu Tireni - The Declaration of Independence of the United Tribes of New Zealand.

If you walk along Aitken Street today, you'll see Te Kara, the flag of the United Tribes of New Zealand fly outside the National Library building.
